

SMS & IVR Platforms

At the centre of Curved Air's products are two platforms:

SMS, MMS and WAP Push

This Platform allows business' to mobilise their processes, communications and interactivity.

IVR (Interactive Voice Response)

The voice platform allows businesses to contact more customers, through multiple channels and more cost effectively than traditional methods. Our voice platform can be used with mobile and landline calls.

Both of these platforms are flexible to any business need or requirement and can be adapted quickly and effectively.

API – Using our simple application interface any business system can be integrated with Curved Air to allow the convenience and control that a business may require.
